

QUALITY FIRST TEACHING

Conditions for learning Pupils work in a classroom climate in which they feel safe, secure and valued.	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Access to adults and any resources used has been planned for, e.g. background noise avoided where possible, light source in front of teacher not behind, blinds in classroom • Classroom and behaviour expectations are displayed with visual prompts; effective and positive behaviour management strategies are used, including class routines, and listening rules • All learners are clear about structure of lesson and day, e.g. visual timetables are on display • Contribution of all learners valued – secure, safe and supportive learning environment • Transition from whole-class work to independent and group work clearly signalled and effectively managed • Texts and equipment are at learner’s instructional level and matched to their age, ability and needs • Classroom displays and working walls are used effectively and interactively • The environment reflects the cultural and linguistic background of learners • Access to appropriate ICT equipment and software • Minor adjustments to ICT equipment and furniture have been considered including, screen position, keyboard size and style, mouse size and style • Differentiated software and appropriate fonts are used. E.G. a simplified or supportive word processing package, is used • ‘Ease of Access’ features provided within operating systems are used to optimise the desktop and work environments
Development of learning Questions probe understanding and develop thinking and reflection	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Time and support given before responses are required, e.g. personal thinking time, partner talk, persisting with progressively more scaffolding, time for translation, until child can answer correctly • Use of a variety of questioning and techniques used so as to challenge learners at all levels • Contributions reflected back by teacher in expanded form or expanded on by other learners • Visual and tangible aids used and made available when required, e.g. graphic organisers/key visuals, story sacks, real objects, signs and symbols, photographs, variety of number lines, computer animations, computer animations, digital video or audio recordings, abstract concepts made concrete, key language and first language prompts • Links made to previous lesson objectives • Tasks made more open or more closed according to learner’s needs
Knowledge of subjects and themes	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • New or difficult vocabulary and language structures clarified, written up, displayed and revisited with pre and post tutoring where appropriate.

Teaching is lively, engaging and involves a carefully planned blend of approaches that direct pupils' learning	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Multi-sensory teaching approaches (visual, verbal, kinaesthetic) in use • Tracking back in literacy and numeracy to reinforce previous learning and language development • Time provided for oral rehearsal before writing • Bilingual resources are provided , where appropriate
Planning A range of assessment strategies, including peer and self-assessment, inform teaching	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • All learners are clear about the lesson intention and success criteria • Tasks clearly explained or modelled – checks for understanding, task cards or boards as reminders, time available and expected outcomes made clear to all learners • Learners have been taught strategies which mean they can continue to work without direct teacher help if they get stuck; prompts to remind them are on display • Tasks simplified or extended, e.g. short, concrete text used by one group or long, abstract text by another • Peer assessment/self-assessment • FACT/FACT plus and IDP checklists are used to inform planning and learning • There is assessment of language learning alongside curricular learning
Understanding Learners' needs Pupils are offered a variety of ways in which to record their learning	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Teacher checks for understanding of instructions, e.g. by asking a child to explain them in their own words • Support in place for children with working memory problems – sticky notes, jottings, tasks broken down, concrete material to support • Interactive strategies used, e.g. children having cards to hold up or own whiteboards or coming to the front to take a role • Scaffolding, e.g. problem solving grids or visual tools or clue cards provided where needed, marking policy providing effective feedback used • Talking and writing partners used • Structured Handwriting programme is followed to develop handwriting patterns, letters and joining • Structured phonics programme is followed, implemented and embedded in reading whole texts supported by rich literacy provision
Engagement with learners and learning Pupil groupings are flexible and maximise learning	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Learners help and support each other with ideas; they give one another space in which to think and respond to questions • Variety of learners groupings used so that learners are able to draw on each other's strengths and skills, produce random groups for talk partners

	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Effective use of additional adult support, e.g. learning objectives clear, independence rather than dependence promoted, peer interaction encouraged • Learners' seating purposely organised.
Links beyond the classroom Various approaches, notably ICT are used to help learners extend their learning	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Alternatives to paper and pencil tasks used where appropriate, e.g. ICT, diagrams • Effective use of ICT as an access strategy • Using the outdoor environment to incorporate practical activities • Effective use of the (Interactive Whiteboard) IWB to model, demonstrate, reinforce and prompt • Parents actively involved in their children's learning • Links made to prior knowledge and learning

Iveson Primary School – Nurture Provision

Purpose of Nurture Group Provision

At Iveson we support all our children to achieve their full potential and recognise in order to do this there are times when they may require nurture provision. Nurture provision seeks to support our children to overcome barriers in their learning brought about by social, emotional or behaviour difficulties through short term, focussed intervention strategies. We recognise the need for children to form secure and happy relationships in their formative years and therefore we ensure our nurture groups provide the opportunity to revisit those early nurturing experiences.

The main purpose of nurture provision is:

To provide a flexible and preventative resource that is responsive to the particular needs of each child.

To provide ongoing assessment and support for children showing signs of emotional stress and behavioural difficulties with the aim of enabling the child to access the curriculum and return to full participation in their mainstream class.
