Dear Parents/ Carers,

Please see the advice for what to do if one child in the family is self-isolating due to close contact with a person who has tested positive for coronavirus. You are still required to bring other siblings to school.

If the child that is self-isolating is too young to be left alone the advice is:

- Consider advance alternative arrangements for getting siblings to school e.g. a consistent friend or family member.
- Ask if a consistent friend or family member could bring the siblings to school.
- If you are unable to make any alternative arrangements, please contact the school as a change to drop off and pick up times may need to be implemented so that the child that is self-isolating does not come into contact with other children or adults.

Yours sincerely

Hayley Marshall
